

Training for moderators and host of 5GDHC role-play game

Description of the 5GDHC role-play game

- An interactive role-play game with hypothetical storyline;
- A simulated meeting organized by a district heating company with local authorities' initiative*;
- Key stakeholders are invited to the meeting to discuss how to switch to carbon-neutral heating (5GDHC) in buildings in Orleans city*;

all stakeholders' roles and places are simulated*

Storyline of the game: Introducing 5GDHC in Orleans city

The Orléans Métropole conurbation (22 communes) aims at decreasing its energy consumption by 50%, its greenhouse gas emission by 75% and multiply by 8 the use of renewable energies by 2050.

To achieve these ambitious decarbonisation targets, the Orleans city hall (local authority) proposed to district heating company EnNet to initiate a meeting to discuss how to switch to carbon-neutral heating and cooling in buildings by implementing fifth generation district heating and cooling (5GDHC).

The district heating (DH) company EnNet, who is the largest DH operator in Orleans Metropole, has invited all relevant stakeholders to this meeting.

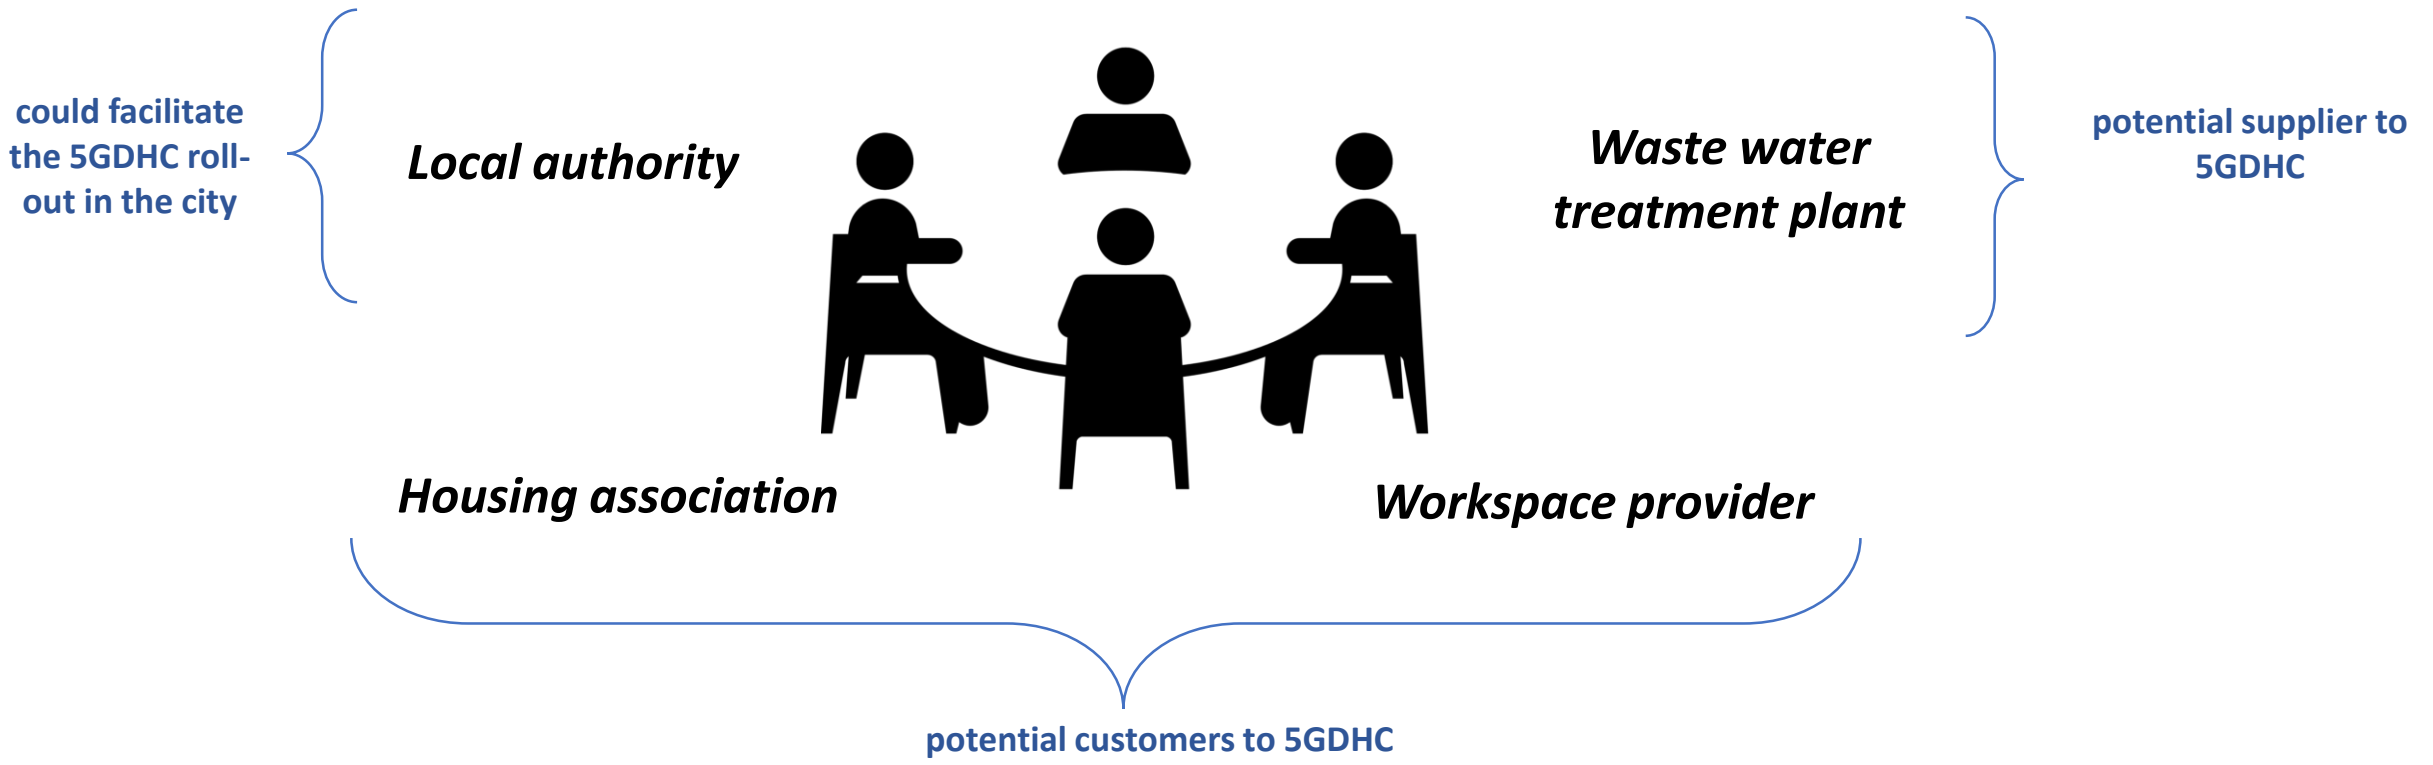

EnNet has already successfully demonstrated the 5GDHC principles in various pilot projects.

Now they are looking to start rolling out this technology on a large scale, starting in Orleans city.

During this meeting participants decide where to establish and which stakeholders to connect to the first 5GDHC cluster in the city.

Roles in the game

5 roles = 5 groups

To support each role we need moderator!

- Moderators should know the role of their group. Please read the role card of your group in advance;
- Note for participants: It is a simulation role-play game. If any information is not given in the role-card, you can improvise
- Each moderator + host will receive printed instructions with time slot and tasks.
- Host will received the introduction presentation in advance.

What is expected from host?

- Introduction to the game: the story, rules and structure of the game; - ppt
- Guides participants and gives instructions: for example split in groups, come back to discussion round;
- Leads the game: at each discussion round provides opportunity for each representative to speak;
- Facilitates the dialogue among participants;
- Gives a short summary of the discussion round or clarifies the answer of participant;
- Facilitates voting process to find out the winner of the game;
- Wrap-up the game;

What is expected from moderators?

- Guides/assistance the group (what documents to open, what to read, what to do);
- As an expert, provide answers to the questions;
- Time management (remind participants about time left for each round);
- Votes for the best performing team;

Features of the game:

In the team participants need to identify:

- Barriers for you to implement 5GDHC;
- Opportunities/solutions to those barriers; ← for each identified opportunity/solution you get 1 point.

TEAM WINNER

The team with the highest score points at the end of the game wins!

The best role performance* team will get 5 points from moderators.

*Criteria for assessment:

- Active participation in all discussion rounds;
- Creative in role performance;
- Collaboration with other stakeholders;
