

PUBLISH A CITY21 CASE STUDY

By referencing your Eco-Districts and sustainable Urban zones on the Construction21 database, you ensure a visibility for your achievements and skills.

Eco-Districts and Sustainable Urban Zones may also participate in Green Building Solutions & City Awards, an international competition organized each year to honor the most innovative achievements in construction.

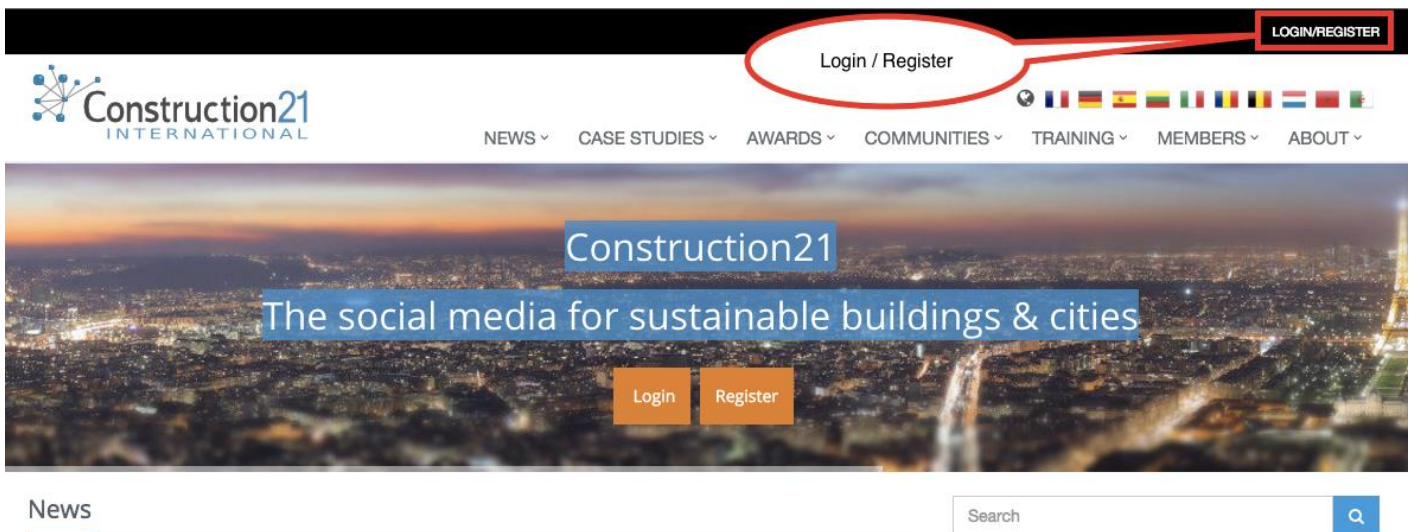

Construction21 observatory hosts Eco-Districts and Sustainable Urban Zones

- Totally or partially delivered
- With good environmental and thermic performances

2. Your case study is still queued in the moderation process : Click on your name top right of the screen and select «My Data ». Under the tab « My Case study », you will find the list of what you already referenced.

The screenshot shows a user interface with a blue header containing three tabs: 'PROFIL', 'ACCOUNT', and 'MY DATA'. The 'MY DATA' tab is active. Below the header, there is a section titled 'MY PAGES' with a table containing columns for 'Title' and 'Date'. A red speech bubble points to the 'MY PAGES' section with the text 'Tab to modify my case studies'. Below this, there are several sections: 'MY BOOKMARKS', 'MY SCHEDULE', 'MY RELATIONSHIPS', 'MY COMMUNITIES', 'MY CASE STUDIES', 'MY NEWS', and 'MY COMMENTS'. Each section has a '+' icon on the right side. A red speech bubble points to the '+' icon of the 'MY CASE STUDIES' section with the text 'Click on the « + » to show and edit your own case studies'. At the bottom of the 'MY PAGES' section, there is a pagination control showing 'Page 1 At 1' and a refresh icon.

2 links are available:

- Edit description: To change the general description sheet (1st page immediately visible)
- Edit: to modify the rest of the case study (approach, stakeholders, products, energy, etc ...)

Once your modifications done, click on « Save my work », and then « Publish ».

Warning : Any changes made on a case study sends the case study back into the moderation queue. It is no longer online until the moderation team validates it again.
